

OFFICIAL PRESS RELEASE

Imperial Linen Services, Inc.

We believe that without quality service, nothing else matters.

Imperial Linen Services Proudly Announces Completion of the 55,000 sq ft Phase One of Our New Facility. The Seamless Transition from Our Previous Facility of 70 Years to the New Facility is Completed and Fully Operational.

This facility is one of the most ecologically sound and energy efficient, large capacity laundry plants in the country! Located in the Greater Houston Area, City of Stafford, Ft. Bend County.

With completion of this new plant, Imperial will more than double its current production capacity. This new plant has been designed and engineered from scratch to be state-of-the-art and one of the top facilities in the country.

This facility employs the latest technology to make its operations energy efficient and eco-friendly in every manner possible with a less negative impact on the environment. Imperial currently uses Milnor Continuous Batch Washing Systems, the leading manufacturer of large-capacity laundry equipment and will expand use of this environmentally responsible technology into the future to dramatically decrease water and energy usage. A mix of conventional Milnor washing equipment is also being used to give the plant total flexibility and also employing water conservation technology through water reuse and water recycling. In the event of a power failure, continuous electrical service will be provided by backup generators powered by natural gas for full operation of the entire facility.

To further ensure that our total product provides the ultimate in quality, Imperial has partnered with Christeys Laundry Technology, a global supplier of laundry wash products that are biodegradable and maximize linen life. Their innovative wash formulas utilize top of the line dependable injection equipment ensuring ultimate accuracy in injection of each product. This reduces production time, conserves water, energy and most importantly further preserving linen integrity.

Imperial has installed all new top-quality Chicago Dryer Company finishing, feeding, ironing, folding, and stacking equipment to further produce top-quality finished linen products.

Imperial owns its entire fleet of delivery trucks, which are meticulously maintained for maximum dependability. The fleet is specifically designed to accommodate any pickup and/or delivery requirement. All vehicles are equipped with lift gates to further enhance their flexibility, efficiency and dependability. All of our newest trucks are equipped to run on natural gas as well as gasoline to further promote an eco-friendly environment. Future vehicle replacements will also be equipped to run on natural gas as well as gasoline.

The Imperial Linen Services staff includes production managers, sales and services managers, assistant managers and other key lead staff who oversee all areas of production and delivery – with combined commercial laundry operations experience of over 100 years. Many of our employees have been with us for more than 20 years, and are dedicated to Imperial's unyielding commitment to high quality service in every facet of our business.

Imperial Linen Services has previously focused on customers who own their own linen and are in the hospitality, healthcare, food service, event planning, and spa and fitness industries. In addition, with our expanded facilities we are now able to offer some specific rental programs. We are a cost saving alternative to operating an on premise laundry. Our economies of scale allow us to use the latest technology in equipment reducing cost and passing the savings on to our customers. We offer an excellent option for those who want complete control of the quality and quantities of their linen.
